The Grapefruit Theme

This is the begining of the slide with some alerted text and some emphasized text.

Theorem. This is a theorem.

Theorem (W.'20). This is also a theorem. It has more than one line of text. The text is justified.

Example. This is a nice example. And this is important.

Some text below the example.

The Grapefruit Theme

Let us start with a list, we have

- ▶ first item,
- ▶ second item in accent color,
- ▶ third item in regular color.

We can also do enumerated lists.

1. Start,
2.
   2.1 a subitem,
   2.2 another one,
   2.3 one in accent color,
3. the end.

The Grapefruit Theme

And of course descriptions, look at one some text,

two some more,

three even more text,

four in accent color, and five another one in accent color.

We have a nice box with a gray shade and some alerted text, and some emphasized text.

We also have a box with an accentcolor shade that contains some alerted text, and some emphasized text.

Color variants

And now the same slides with other color variations. We have as most important colors

- ► a frame title and footer color,
- ► a main color, used for lists, and alerted text,
- ► an accent color, used for emphasized text,
- ► a theorem label color, and an example color.
